8 die, homes of Minister, MLAs targeted in Manipur protests

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, SEPTEMBER 1

EIGHT PEOPLE were killed and 27 injured as protests spilled over to a second day in Manipur's tribal hill district of Churachandpur after the State Assembly passed three bills, including clauses that relate to purchase of land by non-Manipuris and fixing 1951 as the base year to identify non-indigenous people.

The houses of Health Minister Phungzathang Tonsing and five other MLAs, as well as the vehicle of the deputy commissioner of Churachandpur, were set on fire by the protesters.

While the minister, the MLAs and their families were unhurt, an indefinite curfew has been imposed in the area. Sources said the Minister and the MLAs were targeted because they failed to prevent the bills from being passed.

On Monday, the Assembly unanimously the Protection of

A truck burnt down by agitators in Churachandpur Tuesday.

Manipur People Bill, 2015; Manipur Land Revenue and Land Reforms (7th Amendment) Bill, 2015; and Manipur Shops and Establishments (2nd Amendment) Bill, 2015. Of these, the Protection of Manipur People Bill, 2015, is a prototype of the Inner Line Permit (ILP) system.

The protesting tribal student organisations have claimed that the three bills overlap Article 371 C of the Constitution and Manipur Hill People Administration Regulation Act, 1947. Their primary objection is to the Manipur Land Revenue and Land Reform Act (7th Amendment) Bill 2015.

"Our land is protected by the 6th schedule. We believe that the Manipur government has slyly introduced the Land Reforms Bill under the garb of ILP. In any case, the tribals have not been supporting the ILP movement, it is primarily a Meitei demand. We feel that by introducing the land Bill the Manipur government and the Meiteis will try and grab our land. The land in tribal hill areas is governed by customary laws and held by the chieftans on behalf of villagers. With this Bill, the land will fall under the control of the deputy commissioners and the Manipur government. They will try and take our land from us," said a member of the protesting Kuki Students Organisation (KSO).

For the first time in years, traditional rivals Nagas and Kukis have come together to agitate against the Bill in the face of "a common enemy". "The battle-lines have been drawn," said the KSO member.

Rave party busted: 27 held

RAJEEV JAIN
JAIPUR, SEPTEMBER 1

JAIPUR POLICE Tuesday busted a rave party at the farmhouse of Kalbelia dancer Gulabo and arrested 27 people, including Gulabo's son.

Drugs such as opium and marijuana, alcohol, a sound system and a number of two-wheelers and four-wheelers were seized from the venue in Harmada on the outskirts of the city.

"Following a tip-off, a raid was conducted around 4 am at Gulabo's farmhouse near Needad village. Her son is among the 27 arrested," said Additional DCP Karan Sharma, who led the raid.

According to the police, the party was organised by Gulabo's son Bhawani Sapera. Many high-profile people were associated with the party, so the raid was conducted with a lot of preparation, the police added.

Rajiv regarded Pak as ‘strategic buffer’ against USSR, says CIA report

LALIT K JHA
WASHINGTON, SEPTEMBER 1

CONTRADICTING the perceived proximity to the Soviet Union in the Cold War era, India under the then Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi had toyed with the idea of supporting anti-Russian civilian groups in Pakistan if the then Zia regime was thrown out by Moscow, a recent declassified CIA document has claimed.

According to CIA documents of the era, which were recently declassified and posted on the CIA website under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), which is similar to India's Right to Information Act, Gandhi wanted non-interference from both the United States and the then USSR. "Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi would like both the USSR and the United States to end their involvement in South Asia," noted the 31-page CIA document titled "The Soviet Presence in Afghanistan: Implications for the Regional Powers and the US".

While taking note of the historic India-USSR relationship in particular in the defence field, the CIA report of April 1985 noted that India is likely to become increasingly concerned about long-range Soviet intentions in the region and could find itself moving towards confrontation with the Soviets if Pakistan was effectively neutralised. "New Delhi regards Pakistan as a strategic buffer against the USSR and would oppose Moscow's effort to dominate Pakistan. New Delhi and Moscow would find themselves supporting rival factions within Pakistan," said the report, according to which Moscow had plans to change the regime in Pakistan and extend its influence beyond Afghanistan.

In that case, the report said, "The Indians would seek to significantly reduce their dependence on Moscow and re-order their strategic relationship with the USSR, the United States and China if they perceived Soviet ambitions as extending beyond Afghanistan toward the subcontinent."

According to the report dated October 22, 1985, the Soviets tried to heighten India's suspicion about Pakistan's intentions and its security relationship with the US in order to foster Indo-Pakistani tensions and heighten New Delhi's dependence on Moscow. "In Soviet view, conflict between India and Pakistan would work toward solving Moscow's Afghan problem and would give Moscow opportunities to strengthen its position in South Asia," the report said. "If (Gen) Zia (Ul Haq) regime were to fall, the Indians might try to prevent Soviet attempt to dominate Pakistan by supporting rival Pakistani political factions. Soviet military moves against an already neutralised Pakistan could even result in military confrontation with India," it added.

Six months later when Gandhi was planning to meet General Zia on the sidelines of the UN General Assembly meeting in New York, the CIA analysed that the then Indian PM, despite his strong public views on Pakistan's nuclear weapons programme, was unlikely to push him hard on it. "Gandhi will probably at least mention his continuing concern," noted the CIA report. PTI
